Volunteer Thanakorn Donates books for Library

25th July 2010, Thai Volunteer Thanakorn is spending busy time at The Dhaka Project School for the last two weeks. He has a keen interest on the Liberation War of Bangladesh. He also visited the Liberation War Museum at Dhaka. On Sunday at 1:10 P.M. Thanakorn handed over various books available on Liberation War (Bangladesh) of 1971 to Parveen Sultana, Principal of The Dhaka Project School. The donated books (some in English and some in Bangla) will be kept in the library at the History Corner Shelve for the readers. Thanks to Volunteer Thanakorn for the Donation.

AMango!----King of Fruits Distributed

5th July 2010, it's rainy season in Dhaka, Bangladesh. Students of The Dhaka Project School (TDPS) entering the school premise from 8:15 A.M.---some in rain coats---some with umbrellas----some with morning showers! It is the end of mango season. At 9:15 A.M. basket full mangoes were brought. Lengra---the best quality of mangoes available in Bangladesh were distributed by Mr. Azad among all the 500 students. This fruit is considered as the king of fruits for its delicious taste and magnificent scent. The students were advised to wash the mangoes before eating. Fruit distribution day is always the happiest day of the month. The fruit distribution was promoted by a Volunteer named Ferre, The Dhaka Project is continuing the program every month from its own fund.

Cookies Distribution at Pre School

14th July 2010, Students of Daycare, Play Group & Nursery were busy in their classes. At 10:00 A.M. Cookies were brought. Students were very happy when Mr. Azad distributed cookies among the students. The Cabin Crews of Emirates Airline bought these cookies for the children of The Dhaka Project. The Dhaka Project is always grateful to them. Thanks to all donors.

Double quantity of Weekly Food Distribution.

Every Thursday is a food distribution day. As the school was on summer vacation for 10 long days, 1st July 2010 was the Weekly Food Distribution Day of The Dhaka Project School. Students were lined-up according to their grades as usual. Names were called by Mr. Azad based on the weekly class presence. All the students were provided with double quantity of food. Bags containing Rice, Lentil, Potato, Onions, Garlic & Eggs were distributed among the students. Bag full of weekly diet food recommended by TDP Medical Centre reduces the burden of nutrition among the student's family. Every Thursday is a happy day for the student's of TDPS.
